Discount Fire Supplies Adds 2D Emergency Lights To Their Existing Range Of Emergency Lighting

Fire safety retailer Discount Fire Supplies have increased the range of emergency lighting available on their website by adding a new 2D Emergency Lights category featuring products made by Channel Safety Systems.

Customers of discountfiresupplies.co.uk now have an even wider choice of emergency lighting available to them as Discount Fire Supplies have recently added a new sub-category to their Emergency Lighting category purely for 2D Emergency Lights.

2D emergency lights are low-profile units that come in a wide choice of shapes, finishes, colours and power options including sustained, maintained and non-maintained. Because of this they are often a very versatile choice in addition to the fact that they can also be both wall and ceiling mounted. 2D emergency lights are often seen in offices, shops, schools and other similar premises.

The manufacturer of these lights, Channel Safety Systems, have a reputation of producing reliable and robust safety products. 2D emergency lights are no exception, these products can boast that they are both flame retardant and vandal resistant. Many of the lights are also weatherproof allowing them to be used effectively indoors and outdoors.

Ranging in price from £87.60 to £204.30, Discount Fire Supplies believes that there is an affordable 2D emergency light for any situation. Tariq El-Hoss, owner of the business, says "2D emergency lights offer a flexible solution for those looking to fit décor appropriate emergency lighting at a price that won't blow the budget. I'm glad we've been able to introduce these on our website to give our customers even more emergency lighting choice."
