Discount Fire Supplies Add New First Aid Product Ranges to Their Website

In keeping with their endeavour to become the UK's premier online fire alarm and fire safety supplier, Discount Fire Supplies have added a new First Aid & Safety Equipment category to their website.

Discountfiresupplies.co.uk, retailers of fire alarm systems and fire safety products, have added a new 'First Aid & Safety Equipment' category to bring them one step closer to supplying their customers with everything they need to stay safe and legal in the workplace. The new category plays host to a number of products from first aid kits to first aid accessories, including eye wash and first aider waistcoats.

Discount Fire Supplies intend for the new category to grow as they continue to add new and affordable products. So far, the First Aid and Safety category is broken down into three sub categories:

- First Aid Kits: Offering a range of first aid kits from premium kits to HSE and BSI compliant kits. These first aid kits are available from £9.33 +VAT and all contain the necessary items to take care of minor injuries in the workplace.
- First Aid Accessories: This category is home to first aid items such as clothing and accessories including high visibility head-wear and waistcoats enabling the designated first aider to be easily identified in crowded or low lit areas.
- Eye Care: Eye care items from saline eye wash, in 500ml bottles or 20ml pods with twist-off tops, to mounting brackets and complete eye wash stations containing eye wash, eye pad dressings and a mirror to assist with application.

All of these products are available to buy online at discountfiresupplies.co.uk and customers can receive a 5% discount by entering discount code 'ONLINEONLY' at the checkout. All orders placed before 2.30pm will be dispatched on the same day and shipping is free for all orders over £100.

Tariq from Discount Fire Supplies says, "We are dedicated to becoming the UK's premier online fire safety supplier and these new products just bring us one step closer. We intend this new category to keep growing, along with our other categories, to provide our customers with everything they need in one convenient location."
